

UNDERSTANDING YOUR STUDENT LOAN

MISSOURI
DHE
Student Loan Program

ENTRANCE COUNSELING

Keep in mind that you will have to repay your loan(s) even if you do not finish school, are not satisfied with your education, or are unable to find a job. Plan ahead for repaying your loan, and budget wisely.

Furthering your education is a decision you make to develop your potential and pursue career goals. It is also a major investment of your time, effort, and money.

Now that you borrowed money to help pay for college, the Missouri Department of Higher Education (MDHE) wants to make you aware of the long-term effects of educational borrowing. Repaying your student loan(s) is a responsibility that will not go away until your loan(s) are paid in full. This guide will help you manage your Federal Family Education Loan (FFEL) Program debt through careful planning.

Remember:

- Student loans must be repaid.
- The amount of money you decide to borrow for school may affect your lifestyle after you leave school.
- Your ability or inability to repay your student loan will affect your credit worthiness for purchases such as a car or home.
- Failure to repay your student loan can increase your total debt because unpaid interest and collection costs may be added to your loan balance.

TIP

Keep a file of your student loan records.

Use this folder to keep copies of the following information in one place:

- Loan applications and promissory notes
- Student Aid Reports (SARs) and verification worksheets
- Guarantee and repayment disclosure statements
- Receipts (e.g., from your school cashier's office)
- Financial aid award letters
- Deferment and forbearance requests
- Financial aid correspondence to and from your school, lender or lender servicer, or guarantor
- Names, dates, and brief descriptions of phone conversations with your lender
- Entrance and exit interview forms
- Your Borrower Rights and Responsibilities checklist
- Other financial aid forms and applications
- Brochures and other loan information from your school, lender or lender servicer, or guarantor
- Sample monthly repayment amounts your school may provide

Create A Budget

Budgeting puts you in control and helps you make better decisions. Maintaining a monthly budget also helps you manage your debts efficiently. As you complete your budget worksheet on page 3, remember:

- Be realistic! Do not cut basic necessities.
- Be flexible! Your budget will not work if it is too tight or too loose.
- Keep it simple! Do not get so detailed that your budget becomes a chore instead of a useful tool.
- Give it time! Your budget will prove itself over the long term.
- Keep it updated! Do not let your budget become inaccurate and less effective.

Before you decide how much to borrow, take a look at your budget for school and make some choices. Do not borrow more than you need!

Completing your budget worksheet can be easy... REALLY!

1. Identify your sources of income for the academic year, such as savings, help from parents and relatives, gifts, financial aid, salary, and other earnings. Record and total your income.
2. Calculate your expenses. Include the academic year's tuition, room and board, books, fees, utilities, transportation, entertainment, and medical and personal expenses. Record and total your expenses.
3. Subtract your expenses from your income to calculate your discretionary income, or remaining funds for the academic year. If you have money left over or if you break even, you are set. If you do not have enough money, consider alternatives to borrowing on page 4 and make any necessary adjustments.

TIP

Plan ahead.

- Estimate your anticipated salary after you graduate to determine what loan payments you will be able to afford. You may also want to develop a post-graduate budget.
- Be sure you will have affordable debt levels at the time you begin repaying your student loan. See pages 20 and 21 for sample student loan repayment charts, then complete the simple equation on page 4. This will help you estimate what percentage of your monthly income will be your loan payment(s).

Plot Your Payment

- A. Record your estimated annual gross income at the time you plan to graduate. [A = annual gross income]
- B. Divide your estimated annual gross income by 12 to get your estimated monthly gross income. [B = A ÷ 12]
- C. Determine, using the repayment charts on pages 20 and 21, the total loan amount you plan to borrow for all years of college. Record the monthly payment amount. [C = monthly loan payment]
- D. Calculate what percentage of your monthly gross income your student loan payment(s) will be. [D = (C ÷ B) x 100]

*Is this figure 8 percent or less?

Consider Alternatives to Borrowing

The result of comparing income and expenses on paper may be shocking. But by increasing your income and/or decreasing your expenses, you may be able to borrow less.

Ways to Increase Your Resources

Work – Federal Work-Study, internships, part-time jobs, summer and holiday work, and assistantships all provide income as well as work experience and references.

Tuition Reimbursement – Employers may reimburse or provide financial assistance to employees for college expenses.

Cooperative Education – Some schools offer work-for-credit programs.

Tax Relief – The Taxpayer Relief Act of 1997 created a federal tax deduction that you may be able to claim for interest payments you make on federal student loans and tax credits (e.g., HOPE Scholarship and Lifetime Learning Credit) for individuals paying tuition and related educational expenses.

For more information about tax credits and student loan interest deductions, visit www.irs.gov and refer to Publication 970 or contact the Internal Revenue Service at (800) 829-1040.

Sponsorship – Some organizations and companies pay college expenses in return for work after graduation.

Military or ROTC Program – Check with local military recruiters about educational financing options.

Reduce Discretionary Spending – It may be necessary to reduce or eliminate spending for items that are not absolutely necessary. For example, eliminate cable television, reduce the number of trips to the movie theatre, or go to the library for books and magazines instead of buying your own copies.

Financial Assistance – Contact your school financial aid office first for more information about your eligibility for federal, state, and institutional financial aid programs. Missouri offers several student financial assistance programs to help you pay for college. For more information on state and federal student financial assistance, contact the MDHE Information Center.

Be Informed About Your Loan

By now, you know you are receiving or have received a FFEL Program loan. You should also know who your loan holder is and which guaranty agency (either the Missouri Department of Higher Education (DHE) Student Loan Program or another) is guaranteeing your loan.

FFEL Program loans offer convenient repayment options in addition to the standard 10-year repayment term (see page 12 for details).

The FFEL Program offers four types of student loans:

- Subsidized Federal Stafford Loans
- Unsubsidized Federal Stafford Loans
- Federal Parent Loans for Undergraduate Students (PLUS)
- Federal Consolidation Loans

TIP

Know the 8 percent rule.

Most financial advisors recommend student loan payments not exceed 8 percent of your monthly gross income. In addition, your total non-mortgage debt, including student loans, car loans, and credit cards, should not exceed 12 percent of your net income.

Keep a list.

List all your loan(s) in the student loan record on the inside pocket of the back cover of this booklet. Use a pencil so you can update information as necessary. If you are uncertain about your current loan amount(s) or loan holder(s), check your student loan records on the National Student Loan Data System (NSLDS) at www.nslds.ed.gov. If you do not have Internet access, you can call (800) 4FEDAID for this information.

Subsidized and Unsubsidized Federal Stafford Loans

The subsidized Federal Stafford Loan is based on financial need, which is determined by using a standard federal formula. A loan is subsidized when the federal government pays the interest for you such as:

- while you are enrolled in school at least half time,
- during your six-month grace period (after you stop attending school at least half time), and
- during authorized deferment periods.

The unsubsidized Federal Stafford Loan is not based on financial need and is available to all students regardless of income, and as long as your total expected financial assistance does not exceed your cost of attending school. Because this loan is not subsidized by the federal government, you are responsible for paying all interest that accrues during in-school, grace, deferment, and forbearance periods. You can choose to make interest payments while in school, or your lender will capitalize the interest (i.e., add the unpaid interest to your principal balance) when you stop attending school at least half time and begin repayment. If you do not make interest payments while in school, the loan will cost you more in the long run.

Stafford Loan Interest Rate

When	Variable Rate Based on	Cap
During in-school, grace, and deferment periods	91-day T-bill + 1.7%*	8.25%
During repayment (begins 6 months + 1 day after the last day of at least half time attendance)	91-day T-bill + 2.3%*	8.25%

*This variable rate is adjusted annually on July 1. Your lender will provide you with the actual interest rate on your loan.

Federal PLUS Loans

The Federal PLUS Loan is available to help parents pay for their dependent children's undergraduate postsecondary education.

PLUS Loans are not based on financial need, so parents of all income levels are eligible. A natural parent, stepparent, or adoptive parent with no adverse credit history may borrow for each dependent child who is enrolled in school at least half time and who is maintaining satisfactory academic progress, as determined by the school. The borrowing limit for a PLUS Loan is based on the cost of attendance at the dependent child's school minus expected financial assistance.

PLUS borrowers must begin repaying PLUS Loans within 60 days after the loan is fully disbursed. For more information, parents may contact the financial aid office at the dependent child's school, or the MDHE Information Center at icweb@dhe.mo.gov.

Master Promissory Note

You apply for a Federal Stafford Loan, or your parent applies for a Federal PLUS Loan, by signing a Master Promissory Note (MPN). The Federal Stafford Loan MPN allows you to receive subsequent loans for up to 10 years without signing another note. The Federal PLUS MPN allows your parent to receive subsequent loans for your undergraduate postsecondary school attendance for up to 10 years without signing another note. Generally, multiple loans may be made from the same note provided the lender does not change and you continue to attend school in the United States. Every year schools notify each eligible Stafford or PLUS Loan applicant of the maximum loan amount for which the borrower is eligible. But that does not mean that an applicant must accept the maximum loan amount. You, or in the case of a Federal PLUS Loan your parent, can request to borrow less than the maximum amount for which you (or your parent) are eligible, refuse the entire loan, or revoke a lender's ability to make subsequent loans under an existing MPN. You should contact your school or lender for more information about how to exercise these rights.

Often, loans are sold to a secondary market or other loan holder as they near repayment, so it is a good idea for a borrower to contact his or her preferred lender to make sure the lender retains the right to make additional loans under an existing MPN.

Your school may require a new MPN for each new Federal Stafford or PLUS Loan. Your school will inform you of its MPN procedures.

Federal Consolidation Loan

Allows you to combine one or more qualifying, outstanding student loans (such as subsidized and unsubsidized Federal Stafford, Federal PLUS, Federal SLS, ALAS, Perkins, FISL and /or HPSL) into one new loan with new terms, and one payment to a single lender. The interest rate on a Federal Consolidation Loan is a weighted average of the interest rates of the loans being consolidated, rounded up to the nearest 1/8 of 1 percent (not to exceed 8.25 percent). Since the repayment term on a Federal Consolidation Loan may be extended, the total amount a borrower repays over time may be greater.

Receiving Your Loan Funds

The federal government requires that you receive your FFEL Program loan in multiple disbursements. Do not expect to receive all the money at once.

Depending on your school's financial assistance procedures, your FFEL Program loan funds will be disbursed in one of two ways:

1. Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT) With EFT, your funds are electronically transmitted from your lender to your school and then credited to your student account at the school to pay school charges. This method is usually quicker than receiving a paper check. Through the Master Promissory Note, your signature will automatically authorize the school to credit your student account via EFT unless you request otherwise in writing.

2. Paper check Your lender will send your school a check that the school will require you to sign before the funds are deposited into your student account.

Your cannot receive or keep loan funds you have already received if you:

- do not enroll at least half time at your school,
- never attend at least one day of classes,
- use your loan to pay for anything other than educational expenses at the school who gave you your loan, or
- provide false information that causes you to receive a loan for which you are not eligible.

TIP

Maintain satisfactory academic progress.

- To continue to receive FFEL Program funds, you must maintain satisfactory academic progress as defined by your school.
- Check your school catalog or handbook for its minimum cumulative grade point average and maximum time period for completing your program of study.

Know When Your First Payment is Due

Your loan holder will send you a repayment schedule before your first payment is due. This schedule contains detailed information about your loan payments, including when your first and subsequent monthly payments are due.

Grace Period

Your grace period is the time period between the day you are no longer enrolled at least half time and the day you must begin repayment. Grace periods apply only to Federal Stafford Loan borrowers and to some Federal Supplemental Loan for Students (SLS) borrowers who also have Federal Stafford Loans.

Military reservists who are called to active duty for more than 30 days while in school or in the grace period are entitled to an extension of the grace period, not to exceed three years. This three-year period may include the time necessary for you to re-enroll at the next regularly scheduled enrollment opportunity.

When Repayment Begins...

Notify your loan holder any time your enrollment status changes!

Subsidized Federal Stafford Loan Borrowers

After you graduate, leave school, or drop to less than half time enrollment, you have a six-month grace period before you must begin repayment. During this time, the federal government pays the interest that accrues on your subsidized loan(s).

Unsubsidized Federal Stafford Loan Borrowers

After you graduate, leave school, or drop to less than half time enrollment, you have a six-month grace period before you must begin repayment. However, as soon as your unsubsidized loan is disbursed, it begins accruing interest. You either choose to pay the interest or your lender will capitalize the interest when you begin repayment, increasing your total loan debt.

Federal SLS Borrowers

If you have a Federal Stafford Loan that has not yet entered repayment and a Federal SLS loan for which you are receiving an in-school deferment, you will receive a six-month grace period, or alignment, for your SLS loan so that all of your loans enter repayment and your first payment is due at the same time. During this time, interest continues to accrue on your SLS loan as well as on any unsubsidized Stafford Loans. You authorize your lender to postpone repayment on your SLS loan by signing the Stafford Loan MPN. If you prefer to begin repayment on your SLS loan as soon as you leave school, you must contact your lender, who will establish a first payment due date for you within 60 days of your in-school deferment ending (see page 13).

TIP

Make plans if you transfer.

If you transfer to a new school, contact your loan holder who will obtain documentation of your last day of attendance at your previous school. Remember, your loan holder needs to know you are still enrolled in school. If you do not notify your loan holder, you may be required to begin repaying your student loan(s) sooner than necessary, perhaps even while you are still in school.

Also, be sure to contact the financial aid offices at both schools—the one you transfer from and the one you transfer to.

Federal PLUS Borrowers

The first payment is due within 60 days after the loan is fully disbursed; however, interest begins to accrue after the first disbursement. By signing the PLUS Loan MPN, your parent authorizes the lender to capitalize unpaid interest that accrues before the first payment is due, or your parent may choose to make interest payments during this period.

Federal Consolidation Loan Borrowers

The first principal payment is due within 60 days after the Federal Consolidation Loan is disbursed to the lender(s) holding the underlying loan(s). Interest begins accruing the day the Federal Consolidation Loan is disbursed. If you consolidate your Federal Stafford Loan(s) during your grace period, you will forfeit any remaining grace period (see pages 12 and 15).

Student Loan Interest Payments

Students who pay interest on their loans while in school can reduce their total debt and may have lower monthly payments after they leave school. See the chart below to estimate interest payments on your student loan debt.

Example

Branden borrows a total of $18,000 in unsubsidized Federal Stafford Loans during four years of school and pays the interest on his loans before repayment begins. Branden's interest rate is 8.25 percent, the regulatory maximum.

	Amount Borrowed	Debt	Total Interest
Year 1	$4,000	$4,000	$27.50 per month/$330 per year
Year 2	$4,000	$8,000	$55.00 per month/$660 per year
Year 3	$5,000	$13,000	$89.38 per month/$1,072.56 per year
Year 4	$5,000	$18,000	$123.75 per month/$1,485 per year

Repayment*

Monthly payment if interest WAS paid before repayment began: $220.77
 Monthly payment if interest was NOT paid before repayment began: $264.29

Total interest paid on the loan if it WAS paid before repayment began: $8,492.97
 Total interest paid on the loan if it was NOT paid before repayment began: $10,166.82

Branden saves $1,673.85 in interest over 10 years by making interest payments while in school!

*Based on a standard 10-year repayment period.

Repayment Options

Contact your loan holder to find out more about the following repayment options:

Prepayment: Smartest Choice

- You can prepay all or part of your loan(s) at any time without penalty.
- Prepayment may substantially decrease your total interest costs.
- Be sure to indicate on any prepayment that your loan holder should apply it to the principal.

Standard Repayment: Lowest Total Cost (if you are not prepaying)

- Fixed schedule of equal monthly payments (minimum $50 monthly payment).
- Maximum 10-year repayment period.
- Ideal for borrowers capable of meeting full monthly principal and interest payments.

Graduated Repayment: Short-Term Relief

- Monthly schedule that starts with small payments that increase gradually over time.
- Maximum 10-year repayment period.
- Your loan holder will set your minimum monthly payment, which generally must equal at least the monthly interest charge.
- Assumes your income will grow over time to cover the increasing loan payments.
- You will pay higher total interest than if you had chosen the standard repayment plan.

Income-Sensitive Repayment: Temporary Safety Net

- Monthly schedule that fixes payments for one year at a time. Payments may increase or decrease each year as your income rises or falls.
- Maximum 10-year repayment period that can be extended annually up to five years if payments are less than the standard principal and interest.
- Your loan holder will set your minimum monthly payment based on income documentation you provide.
- Monthly payments generally range from 4 percent to 25 percent of your monthly gross income.
- Substantially increases your total debt.

Extended Repayment Plan

- Available if you received your oldest outstanding loan through the FFEL Program on or after October 7, 1998, and if your total FFEL Program loan debt exceeds $30,000.
- Fixed annual or graduated repayment schedule.
- Maximum 25-year repayment period.
- Your loan holder will set your minimum monthly payment, which must at least equal the amount of interest due. The minimum annual payment amount is $600.
- Substantially increases your total debt.

Consolidation: Option for Borrowers with One or More Student Loans

- Allows you to combine one or more qualifying, outstanding student loan(s) into one new loan with new terms.
- Features one payment and one lender.
- The interest rate is a fixed rate determined from the weighted average of the interest rates of the loans being consolidated, rounded up to the nearest 1/8 of 1 percent (not to exceed 8.25 percent).
- Depending on your total educational loan debt, you may qualify for an extended repayment period of up to 30 years.
- You forfeit deferment options you had on underlying loans (see pages 22 and 23).
- Lower monthly payments but higher total interest costs.
- This may be a more affordable monthly payment option for those who have borrowed large amounts; however, the total payback amount is more.

Payment Troubleshooting

The single most important thing to do is stay in touch with your loan holder. If you think you are going to miss a payment, contact your loan holder immediately!

If you are unable to make your scheduled student loan payment(s), you may qualify for a deferment or forbearance.

Deferment

A deferment is a period of time during which you may postpone payments (e.g., while you are attending school at least half time, unemployed, or experiencing an economic hardship). You may qualify for other types of deferment if you borrowed your oldest outstanding FFEL Program loan before July 1, 1993. Deferment eligibility criteria are very specific and are outlined by the U.S. Department of Education.

Subsidized Federal Stafford Loan Borrowers

The federal government will pay the interest that accrues during the deferment period.

Unsubsidized Federal Stafford, SLS, PLUS, and Most Consolidation Loan Borrowers

You are responsible for paying all interest that accrues during deferment periods; however, you may choose either to pay the interest during this time or to defer interest payments. Deferred interest payments will be accumulated and added to the principal (i.e., capitalized) when repayment begins, thus increasing your total loan debt.

See pages 22 and 23
for more information about deferments.

TIP

Take extra precautions.

If you request a deferment or forbearance in writing, keep a copy of your request. If you make the request by phone, document the call.

Follow up with your loan holder to see if the deferment or forbearance request was acted upon.

Do not assume the loan holder approved your deferment or forbearance request until you receive notification from them.

Forbearance

Forbearance is a period of time during which you are permitted to temporarily stop making payments or reduce the amount of your payment. Forbearance is granted when you are willing but temporarily unable to make full or partial payments and do not qualify for a deferment (e.g., due to a financial hardship).

The two main differences between deferment and forbearance are:

1. During a deferment, subsidized Federal Stafford Loan borrowers do not have to pay interest that accrues; but during forbearance, all borrowers are responsible for paying interest.
2. Receiving a deferment is one of your rights as a borrower (provided you qualify and are not in default on your loan). However, in most cases, your loan holder decides whether to grant forbearance, under what conditions, and for what length of time. Loan holders are required, under certain circumstances, to grant a borrower forbearance.

Discharge (also known as “loan forgiveness” or “cancellation”)

Your student loan or a portion of your student loan may be discharged; in other words, for the reasons listed below, you would not have to repay the loan.

Total and Permanent Disability Discharge: If a physician certifies that a borrower is unable to work and earn money because of a condition that is expected to continue indefinitely or result in death.

Death Discharge: If a borrower (or student for whom the parent received a Federal PLUS Loan) dies.

False Certification Discharge: If a school falsely certified the borrower’s eligibility for the loan.

Closed School Discharge: If a borrower received loan funds to attend a school that closed before the student could complete the program (the school must have closed within 90 days of the student’s last date of attendance).

Unpaid Refund Discharge: If a borrower (or student for whom the parent received a Federal PLUS Loan) withdrew from, was terminated from, or did not attend the school, and the borrower did not receive the benefit of a refund because the school failed to return loan funds to the lender.

Teacher Loan Forgiveness: If a Federal Stafford Loan borrower, whose oldest outstanding FFEL Program loan was disbursed on or after October 1, 1998, teaches full time in low-income Title I schools for five consecutive, complete academic years.

Child Care Provider Forgiveness: If a Federal Stafford Loan borrower, whose oldest outstanding loan was disbursed on or after October 1, 1998, has an associate or bachelor’s degree in early childhood education and works at least two consecutive years in a child care facility that serves a low-income community.

TIP

Remember to read.

It is very important that you read any correspondence you receive about your FFEL Program loan(s), regardless of whether it is from your lender, loan holder, guarantor, secondary market, or collection agency.

Contact your loan holder for more information about eligibility requirements and application procedures. It is your responsibility to provide all documentation required to process a deferment or forbearance in a timely manner.

Consolidation...An Alternative Option

If you are financially unable to manage your loans or if you have loans through different lenders or with different loan holders, consider applying for a Federal Consolidation Loan. Loan consolidation allows you to combine one or more qualifying, outstanding federal student loans into one new loan (payable to one loan holder) and to extend the overall length of your repayment period, reducing your monthly payment amounts.

Keep in mind three important points about loan consolidation:

1. The total amount you repay may be more because you are increasing the amount of time to repay the loan and the interest rate may be higher than the interest rate(s) on your original loan(s).
2. You may forfeit your eligibility for certain deferment options you had on the loans you consolidate.
3. If you consolidate your loan(s) while you are in your grace period, you will forfeit the remaining grace period.

Contact your lender or loan holder to see if loan consolidation is the best option for you.

Loans Eligible for Consolidation

- Subsidized and unsubsidized Federal and Direct Stafford Loans
- Federal and Direct PLUS Loans
- Federal Supplemental Loans for Students (SLS)
- Federal Perkins Loans
- Auxiliary Loans to Assist Students made before October 17, 1986
- Federal Insured Student Loans
- Health Professions Student Loans including Loans for Disadvantaged Students
- Health Education Assistance Loans (HEAL)
- Nursing Student Loans

Interest Rate

Generally, the interest rate on a Federal Consolidation Loan is a fixed rate determined from the weighted average of the interest rates of the loans being consolidated, rounded up to the nearest 1/8 of 1 percent. A Federal Consolidation Loan's interest rate cannot exceed 8.25 percent.

If you consolidate your HEAL loan(s), any portion of the loan that repays your HEAL loan(s) has a separate, variable interest rate that changes annually.

Maximum Repayment Period

The maximum time you are allowed to repay a Federal Consolidation Loan varies, depending on the amount of your loan and any outstanding amounts you owe on education loans that are not included in the consolidation.

Less than $7,500 .....	10 years
$7,500 - $9,999 .....	12 years
$10,000 - $19,999 .....	15 years
$20,000 - $39,999 .....	20 years
$40,000 - $59,999 .....	25 years
More than $59,999 .....	30 years

TIP

Couples may consolidate.

Married couples may consolidate their individual loans; however, doing so requires both persons to be held "jointly and severally liable" for repayment of the entire debt, even if the repayment period outlasts the marriage. In addition, both individuals must qualify to receive a deferment and, generally, both individuals must qualify to receive loan cancellation or discharge; however, there are cases when married, co-borrowers may receive a partial loan discharge if one spouse becomes totally and permanently disabled or dies. Borrowers should contact their loan holder for more information about these benefits.

Default Can Ruin Your Record

You will be considered delinquent on your loan if you are late making a payment. Delinquencies of more than 90 days are reported to national credit bureaus. If you allow your account to default, the consequences will be serious.

Loans are not gifts or grants. They must be repaid!

Being in default is a violation of your loan agreement. If you are at least 270 days late on a scheduled payment, you will be considered in default. Your loan holder will assume you have no intention of repaying your loan and will file a default claim with your guarantor.

Some of the consequences of defaulting on a student loan include:

- Your default, the most severe credit rating, will be reported to national credit bureaus and will remain on your credit report for seven years after your loan is paid in full. The negative credit rating may impact your ability to obtain other credit in the future for major purchases such as a car or a home.
- You retain your right to review your academic records; however, a hold may be placed on your official academic transcript.
- Your loan, including unpaid interest, will become immediately due and payable in full.
- Your loan may be turned over to a collection agency and you may be charged collection costs.
- You will no longer be eligible for deferments, forbearances, or various repayment plans.
- Your guarantor or the U.S. Department of Education may file a lawsuit against you to collect the debt.
- Your federal Treasury payments (e.g., federal tax refunds and Social Security payments) and state income tax refunds may be withheld and applied toward your outstanding loan balance.
- Your disposable wages, up to 10 percent, may be taken and applied to your defaulted loan.
- You will be ineligible to receive any federal or state financial assistance funds to continue your education.
- Your default will have an adverse effect on the FFEL Program and could jeopardize the educational opportunities of future students.

TIP

Defaulters do not slip through the cracks.

If you default, you face serious penalties. Unlike consumer debt, such as credit cards and car loans, there is no statute of limitation on collecting federal student loan debt. Also, keep in mind that interest continues to accrue on the debt and collection costs may be added. Years of not making payments on a loan will substantially increase the total debt.

Default Can Be Avoided

The key to preventing default is communication. There is no reason to default. Your loan holder can help you only if you communicate at the first sign of a problem with repayment. Contact your loan holder the first time you are unable to make your payment.

Your choices about your student loan debt can enable you to finance an educational investment in yourself and can open many doors.

If you cannot pay:

- Check your eligibility for a deferment or forbearance (see pages 13 and 14). Your loan holder will help you determine this.
- Consider a Federal Consolidation Loan, which may allow you to repay your total loan debt over a longer repayment period, resulting in smaller monthly payments (see page 15).
- Ask about options like graduated, income-sensitive, and extended repayment plans (see page 12).
- Review your budget and, if necessary, seek professional financial counseling.

Also, remember to contact your loan holder if:

- your address or phone number changes;
- you do not hear from your loan holder during your grace period; or
- your name, employer, or Social Security number changes.

FSA Ombudsman

If you have a question or concern about your student loan, first contact your school, lender, or guarantor. Another resource available to you is the U.S. Department of Education's FSA Ombudsman. The FSA Ombudsman works with student loan borrowers to help informally resolve student loan disputes and problems. The toll-free Ombudsman Customer Service Line is (877) 557-2575. The mailing address is U.S. Department of Education, FSA Ombudsman, 830 First Street NE 4th Floor, Washington, DC 20202-5144. For more information, visit www.fsahelp.ed.gov.

TIP

Check the pocket.

Complete the information on the front pocket of this brochure and refer to it when you need to contact your loan holder.

Glossary

Borrower – The person who obtains the loan from the lender, or in the case of a PLUS Loan, a parent borrower.

Cancellation – See Discharge.

Collection Costs – If you default on your student loan, your guaranty agency may charge you for the costs of collecting your defaulted loan, which will significantly increase your total debt.

Consolidation – The combining of one or more qualifying, outstanding student loans into one new loan with new terms. Generally, this results in lower monthly payments, but higher total interest costs (see pages 12 and 15).

Credit Bureau – An organization that maintains information on a person's credit history. Financial institutions and other creditors, employers, and landlords obtain credit bureau reports for information about a person's credit rating. Defaulted student loans are reported to credit bureaus and remain on the borrower's credit rating for seven years after the account is paid in full.

Default – A loan is considered to be in default when the account is 270 days delinquent. Once in default, it is reasonable to conclude that the borrower does not intend to repay (see pages 16 and 17).

Deferment – A period of time during which you may postpone payments and the U.S. Department of Education pays the accruing interest for subsidized Stafford Loan borrowers (see pages 13, 22, and 23).

Delinquency – Failure to make a full payment when it is due.

Discharge (or Loan Forgiveness/Cancellation) – The release of a borrower's obligation to repay all or part of a loan (see page 14).

Eligible School – A postsecondary institution approved by the U.S. Department of Education for participation in the Federal Family Education Loan (FFEL) Program. Your school's financial aid office will determine your eligibility for many types of financial aid, including grants, scholarships, and loans, and will process your loan application.

Endorser (or Co-signer) – A person who agrees to repay the loan if the borrower does not.

Federal Government – The federal government regulates the Federal Family Education Loan (FFEL) Program, Congress makes the laws for the FFEL Program, and the U.S. Department of Education regulates and enforces them.

Fees – Federal Stafford Loan and Parent Loans for Undergraduate Students (PLUS) borrowers may be charged two types of fees when the loan is disbursed:

- Guarantee fee (or Insurance Premium) - equal to a maximum of 1 percent of the loan amount. While the Missouri Department of Higher Education Student Loan Program plans to continue to waive the guarantee fee for the 2004-2005 academic year, the U.S. Congress or U.S. Department of Education may require the fee to be charged at any time.
- Origination fee - equal to a maximum of 3 percent of the loan amount. Your lender will deduct this amount from each disbursement of your loan proceeds and remit it to the U.S. Department of Education. Your lender may choose to pay all or a portion of this fee on your behalf.

FFEL Program – The Federal Family Education Loan (FFEL) Program is a federal student loan program made up of subsidized and unsubsidized Federal Stafford Loans, Federal Parent Loans for Undergraduate Students (PLUS), and Federal Consolidation Loans.

Forbearance – A period of time during which you are permitted to temporarily stop making payments or reduce the amount of your payment (see page 14).

FSA Ombudsman – An office within the U.S. Department of Education that works with student loan borrowers to informally resolve loan disputes and problems (see page 17).

Grace Period – The time period between the day you are no longer enrolled at least half time and the day you must begin repayment (see page 10).

Guaranty Agency (or Guarantor) – An organization that administers the Federal Family Education Loan (FFEL) Program on behalf of the U.S. Department of Education. If a borrower defaults on a loan, the guaranty agency will pay the lender for the loan and collect the loan from the defaulted borrower. Your guarantor should be listed on the Notice of Loan Guarantee you receive from your lender.

Holder – See Loan Holder.

Interest –

- Simple interest is calculated on the principal portion of your student loan.
- Variable interest is tied to a certain index (depending on the loan) and changes periodically as the index changes.
- Fixed interest does not change.
- Accrued interest is calculated on your unpaid principal balance each day. The interest builds gradually on the loan and is payable by the borrower or federal government, depending on the loan type.
- Capitalized interest is unpaid, accrued interest that is added to the principal balance. When interest is capitalized, your total debt increases.

Lender – A bank, savings and loan, or credit union that provides the actual loan funds. Some lenders will service (i.e., handle correspondence for) your loan while you are in school. Other lenders contract with secondary markets to perform those functions and will sell your loan to that secondary market when the loan enters repayment.

Loan Forgiveness – See Discharge.

Loan Holder – A lender or secondary market that purchases a student loan and has the right to collect from the borrower.

Master Promissory Note – A Master Promissory Note (MPN) allows the borrower to receive multiple loans from the same lender over the course of up to 10 years without signing another promissory note (see page 8).

Missouri Department of Higher Education (DHE) Student Loan Program – Missouri's designated guaranty agency.

Notice of Loan Guarantee – A form you will receive from your lender containing the names, addresses, and phone numbers of your guarantor, school, and lender as well as the total original amount of student loans guaranteed by your guarantor, your disbursement date(s) set by your school, and specifications of your interest rate.

NSLDS – National Student Loan Data System (NSLDS) tracks your student loan(s) from the time the loan is approved until it is paid in full. You can access your loan records in NSLDS online at www.nsls.ed.gov.

Principal – The face value of a loan or the amount on which interest is charged (i.e., the actual amount borrowed).

Promissory Note – The legal and binding contract a borrower signs promising to repay a loan (also see Master Promissory Note).

Repayment Schedule (or Disclosure of Terms) –

A document with information about the terms of your repayment, such as the monthly payment amount, the number of payments, the first due date, and subsequent due dates (see page 10).

Satisfactory Academic Progress – To remain eligible for Federal Family Education Loan (FFEL) Program loans, students must maintain satisfactory academic progress as defined by the school.

Secondary Market – Secondary markets purchase student loans from lenders and service them until they are paid in full. You will be notified in writing if your lender sells your loan to a secondary market.

Servicer – Private companies that many schools, lenders, guaranty agencies, and secondary markets contract with to handle student loan processing.

State Tax Offset – The withholding of a defaulted borrower's state income tax refund to pay a student loan debt.

Subsidized (or Interest Subsidy) – The federal government pays the interest on your loan while you are enrolled in school at least half time, during authorized deferment periods, and during your grace period. You are not required to make any principal or interest payments during these periods.

Treasury Offset – The withholding of a defaulted borrower's federal Treasury payments, such as federal tax refunds or Social Security benefits, to pay a student loan debt.

Unsubsidized – The federal government does not make any interest payments on an unsubsidized loan. However, like a subsidized loan, you do not have to make any principal payments on an unsubsidized loan while you are enrolled in school at least half time, during authorized deferment periods, and during your grace period. Unpaid interest will be added to the principal balance of your loan.

Wage Garnishment – The withholding of up to 10 percent of a borrower's wages to pay a defaulted student loan debt.

Remember: Your eligibility for a deferment is based on when your oldest outstanding FFEL Program loan was first disbursed.

Borrowers with outstanding loans first disbursed before July 1, 1993, may qualify for other types of deferments. Consult the chart on page 23 and contact your loan holder for more information.

- Federal Consolidation Loans made from an application received by the lender on or after August 10, 1993, are eligible for interest benefits only if the Federal Consolidation Loan consists of only subsidized Federal Stafford Loans.
- Federal Consolidation Loans made from an application received by the lender on or after November 13, 1997, are eligible for interest benefits on the portion of the Federal Consolidation Loan that repaid subsidized FFEL Program and Direct Loans.

<sup>4</sup> Either the parent borrower or dependent student for whom the parent obtained the PLUS Loan must meet deferment eligibility requirements. PLUS borrowers who apply for deferment based on the eligibility of the dependent student must use the separate PLUS form.
